5.2 Student learning outcome equivalencies are to be based on documented qualitative and quantitative expectations for:

- a) Time required by students to complete assigned learning activities, taking into account expectations based on degree level, discipline, and weight in students' final course grade;
- b) Time required by students to read and understand content developed by course faculty, excluding time required to read assignments in a course syllabus;
- c) Time required by course faculty to respond to student questions received via e-mail, posted in the online classroom, and/or discussed in the online class chat room; and
- d) Time required by course faculty and students to participate in online conference activities; and
- e) Time required by students to participate in internships, project work, etc.

5.3 Student learning outcome equivalencies reflect differences in delivery methods, type of instruction and interaction, degree of supervision, measurements of student work, academic disciplines, academic calendars, and degree levels.
